

World Health Day - Rally

On the occasion of World Health Day (7th April), the Department of Community Medicine organized a rally and health education program at Amudalapadu.

The program was conducted in line with the World Health Day theme, aiming to create awareness among the community about important health issues and promote healthy lifestyle practices. Faculty members, students, and healthcare staff actively participated in the rally, spreading key health messages and engaging with the local population.

Health education sessions were also carried out to inform residents about preventive measures, early detection, and the importance of maintaining good health.

Such initiatives highlight the commitment of the Department of Community Medicine towards community-oriented healthcare and public health awareness.
