Department of Pathology,
Narayana Medical College, Nellore

Time: 8.00 AM - 5.00 PM

Venue: Narayana Medical College, Nellore

Dear Colleagues,

The Department of Pathology, Narayana Medical College, Nellore is hosting a one day CME on 12th July, 2026, on "Recent Updates and intricacies in the diagnosis of Urinary Bladder & Prostate Carcinoma".

The 5th Edition of WHO of Urinary Bladder and Prostate has brought in innumerable updates and changes in the classification, diagnosis and molecular markers.

Morphology plays a crucial role for further evaluation both by IHC and molecular genetics for accurate and precision treatment of patients with urinary bladder carcinoma as well as prostatic carcinoma.

Pathologists face challenges in interpretation of biopsies related to bladder and prostate. Diagnosis of urinary bladder carcinoma on biopsy and further evaluation of invasion into the deeper muscle layers is providing to be perplexing. In the same way evaluation of Low grade prostate carcinoma can be quite complex.

This CME is basically directed towards interpretation, diagnostic difficulties in grading bladder carcinoma on TURBT specimens, as well as hassles in diagnosis of low grade prostatic carcinoma on core biopsy and TURP specimens.

The CME provides wholesome approach to diagnosis of bladder and prostatic tumors, which includes clinical and radiological correlation.

We cordially invite all the faculty members and postgraduates to register for this CME and get enlightened with the recent updates.
