

World Environment Day Report 2026

Narayana College of Nursing celebrated World Environment Day 2026 on 5th June 2026 in the college premises under the theme “Inspired by Nature for Climate, for Our Future.”

As part of the programme, 10 mango saplings were planted on the campus to promote environmental protection and create awareness about the importance of trees in maintaining a healthy environment.

The programme was inaugurated by Dr. B. Vanajakumari, Principal, who planted the first sapling and spoke about the need to protect nature and plant more trees for a better future. She encouraged the students to take responsibility for preserving the environment.

The plantation activity helped students understand the importance of trees in reducing pollution, improving air quality, and maintaining ecological balance. Through this programme, students gained awareness about environmental conservation and the need to take small but meaningful steps towards protecting nature and combating climate change. The activity also encouraged a sense of responsibility among the participants to care for the environment and contribute to a sustainable future.

Around 20 students actively participated in the plantation programme and showed great enthusiasm throughout the activity. The programme was organized by Prof. T. Ushakiran and Ms. Velangini. They motivated the students to take part in environmental activities and highlighted the importance of conserving nature for future generations. The programme concluded successfully with a message to care for the planted saplings and continue practicing eco-friendly habits to build a greener and healthier future.
